Where do you and I sign up to go along with the  Hunting and Fishing trip? Seriously, this looks like a little bit of a safari and I would like to hear a little bit more about exactly where these people are going to go. I presume that any arrangements that eventually end up being required will be taken care of by  and company 25X1A. Needless to say I am a little suspicious about why they have left a one man gap. I would suspect that ORD just happens to have the right guy.
